was damaged in a suspected arson fire. The house, located on Beach Road, was nearly completed with only some last-minute landscaping left to be done when a suspicious late-night fire which caused an estimated $60,000 in damage occurred Friday, July 27 — the day before the final crew of Habitat volunteers was slated to polish off their latest labor of love.

Although the house remains structurally sound, according to Albert E. Winters of the BBAHFH, the interior was essentially gutted in the tragic fire and will have to be rebuilt from scratch before the single-mother and her daughter can move in.

"(They) broke the window on the back door, and had apparently thrown in or gone in with some kind of (accelerant) and poured some of this around," Mr. Winters said. "The house was so tight, it was really starved for oxygen ... (so) it did get very hot and melted the appliances ... the walls were melted, the ceiling fan was melted. Every surface was just black with soot. It was just a disaster. Inside is pretty much a gut job."

Fortunately — if there can be a fortunate side to such a tragedy — the house was insured under Habitat for Humanity, and Mr. Winters said they met with the insurance adjuster earlier this week and the house is essentially covered for damages.

"We're covered under their umbrella policy," he said. "I don't think we have anything to worry about as far as getting (everything) replaced. We're probably going to look at having a professional company come in and (repair it)." Mr. Winters agreed that the renovations would include replacing all the handicap-accessible accommodations for young Alyssa.

At press time, the Wareham Fire Department was still investigating the suspected arson scene. "They seem to feel it's their job to find who did it," Mr. Winters said. "They hate this kind of thing as much as we do. We probably had over 200 people who worked on the house in one way or another — and countless others who gave money and materials. So, a lot of people had a stake in this house. But as much as we regret the loss, it's really the family that loses most. The family was all geared up to move in."

Although there were no leads or theories as to who committed the crime at press time, Mr. Winters said it was unlikely this was a random act of vandalism. "Someone did something deliberately," he said. "We may never know why."

A $5,000 reward is being offered for any information regarding the alleged arson. Those with any knowledge of this crime should call 1-800-682-9229, and all calls

Crime Watch

Mattapoissett Home Intruder

At approximately 8:41 am on Monday, July 30, a Mattapoissett woman called 911 reporting that a man had entered her home and took her pocketbook off the table. The woman said she ran after the man, who left her driveway in a white, medium-sized vehicle. She reported that the car left south on Crystal Spring Road.

Officers who responded to the Crystal Spring Road neighborhood learned that the white vehicle had been in a driveway across the street and had tried to open a door. Apparently unsuccessful, he went across the street.

They further learned that the suspect car is a white Buick Riviera, or Cadillac style, 90s model, with a chrome luggage rack on the trunk. The vehicle had a white roof, with a blue or black cloth Landau-style top.

The victim is a 64-year-old grandmother who was home taking care of her five-year-old granddaughter. The Mattapoissett Police Department will continue to investigate this crime and release information as it becomes available.

pm by Chairman Paul Lambalot. Also present were Selectman Barry Denham, Selectman Raymond Andrews, and Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

After unanimously approving the minutes of the July 22 meeting, the board signed and unanimously approved a request from Building Inspector Andy Bobola to seek the advice of Town Counsel regarding zoning requirements as they apply to houses re-built after Hurricane Bob. The board also unanimously appointed Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson as the town's Water Resource Management Official.

Under outgoing correspondence, the board sent a memo to the Marine Advisory Board noting that three applications had been received for consideration as board members: Jeff Swift, George Christopher, and John Cornish.

Under incoming correspondence, the board received a six-month progress report from the Computer Advisory Board following their meeting with the Selectmen last December. Among the board's key accomplishments: they have acquired firewall and antivirus software for all systems in Town Hall on the computer network; they have replaced PC systems at two Town Hall offices with new Gateway Pentium III systems; they have acquired a system server for the Assessor's office; they have assisted the Water/Sewer Department and the Harbormaster in procuring new PCs; they have acquired and installed a 16-port hub for the Town Hall network server; they have routed and provided a network access Future plans include: establishing a Computer Advisory Board subcommittee to provide town web site support; installing a new Gateway computer in the Water Department; and relocating the current network server line from the Planning Department office to the newly-designated location.

The board received a copy of a letter from Fire Chief Ronald Scott to Acting ORR High School Principal Carol Stigh regarding the need for a complete fire drill plan and more frequent fire drills at the school in accordance with State Fire Marshal's office.

Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson sent a copy of a notice to all town departments advising that any complaints relating to the ongoing sewer work being done on Route 6 should be addressed to Jim Byrn (508-758-9480) or Steve Shiaka (508-758-9415), as this is an "Old Rochester Regional School Project."

Resident David E. Frawley of Water Street sent a letter to the board expressing his opposition to the proposed renovations to the Harbormaster's office adjacent to his property at the Town Wharf. In his letter, Mr. Frawley claims "increasing the elevation of the building will create an obstruction to the harbor view that a number of us enjoy and appreciate, and that contributes to the value of my property and that of others who reside nearby." Instead, Mr. Frawley suggests the Harbormaster's Building could be enlarged without being elevated — thereby sparing the obstruction that would result. "I believe a modest increase in office space should be sufficient, judging by the configuration of other Harbormaster's offices that I have seen," he wrote.

Kathleen Burns, Director of Home Ownership for the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, submitted a copy of a letter sent to Daniel R. Hart of Mattapoisett Housing Associates advising that The Regatta proposed project on Route 6 is "acceptable for residential development ... and the applicant would be eligible to apply as a limited dividend organization for financing under MassHousing's Chapter 40B construction loan program." The letter went on to address the various concerns raised by residents at recent public hearings on the proposed project, and Selectman Andrews cited the following three stipulations included in the correspondence:

"1. The developer shall provide evidence that development will comply with all statutory and regulatory restrictions and conditions relating to protection of drainage, wetlands, vernal pools, and wildlife habitats and nearby conservation areas;

"2. The developer shall provide evidence of approval for a suitable connection to the municipal water and sewer system from the Mattapoisett Water and Sewer Department; and

"3. The developer shall provide evidence that all concerns raised by the Mattapoisett Planning Board and local residents regarding the potential for increased storm water runoff and possible flooding of nearby homes resulting from the construction of this development have been addressed."

The project has been limited to 100 residential units under MassHousing's Housing Starts program, with not less than 25 units designated as affordable units. The approval is effective for a two-year period, beginning July 19, 2001. Ms. Adams noted that copies of the complete correspondence are available at Town Hall for interested residents.

Greater New Bedford Women's Center, sent a letter expressing her sincere appreciation for the town's $2,000 contribution as approved at the Annual Town Meeting in June.

There being no matters under the Selectmen's Discussion heading, the board welcomed newly-appointed Temporary Town Clerk Rebecca H. McCullough, who was present with members of her family for a formal swearing-in ceremony conducted by outgoing Town Clerk Lois K. Ennis. The board welcomed Ms. McCullough and Chairman Lambalot said they were all "excited about (her) being onboard."

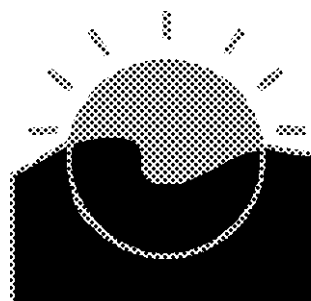

In the moments before conducting her final official act as Town Clerk after a 36-year tenure in Mattapoisett, Ms. Ennis said she was pleased with Ms. McCullough's selection and "I don't have to worry about anything ... it's all worked out very well."

Selectman Denham noted that Ms. Ennis has left the town with a notable keepsake: a new plaque posted outside the Town Clerk's office listing all the people who have held the position from 1857 to the present.

Ms. McCullough was pleased to be offered to take over Ms. Ennis' position and noted that she certainly had "very big shoes to fill."

With that, Ms. Ennis formally swore-in Ms. McCullough as the new Temporary Town Clerk, for a term through the next Annual Town Election in April, 2002.

the board met immediately with the Board of Assessors to discuss matters they wished to bring before the Selectmen in their scheduled appointment on the evening's agenda. Assessors John Mello, Jana Cavanaugh and Suzanne Szyndlar addressed the board regarding three current issues that include recent farm land evaluations for cranberry bog owners, an effort to obtain financial relief from the government to make up for this year's negative adjustment to the local cranberry industry revenues, and a plan to set up a mechanism with the Housing Department for establishing elderly housing additions to private homes that seek exemptions.

On the first matter of the cranberry farmland evaluations, Ms. Cavanaugh explained that in the information and numbers that they have recently gathered, "It's a little better than what we had thought, but still very significant." She presented a rough overview of their findings that calculated the decreased value of the cranberry bog farm lands in Rochester in light of the problems and hardships of the industry and market in recent years, that unfortunately has a negative impact on the community's property tax from growers to residents.

Based on a translation of numbers of Fiscal Years 2001-2002, a value of $5.896 million was given to the farm land (calculated from last year's tax figures), leaving an approximate $84,000 in revenue shift, "which would primarily hit residential," she concluded. Ms. Cavanaugh added again that these figures, though preliminary, are "pretty darn close" and that the Board of Assessors is asking the Board of Selectmen to have Mr. Huntoon contact State Representative William Straus and Senator Marc R. Pacheco, in an effort to request some type of financial relief for the town.

To make up for the approximate $84,000 shortfall that cranberry growers experienced, the impact will be shifted onto the single-family residences creating an average tax increase of $87 for the fiscal year under the evaluation.

"These figures are the best figures we can come up with today, they're not written in stone, but they are close," said Ms. Cavanaugh. "Do we know if we'll get the relief — who knows?" Ms. Cavanaugh feels it is worth a shot to see if anything will be granted to the town.

"This is one of those (cases where) if you don't ask, you don't get," said Chairman Cutler. And with Selectman Parker adding: "Nothing ventured, nothing gained," they unanimously voted to have Mr. Huntoon draft a letter and contact the government officials to seek their help.

The Board of Assessors has also provided Rochester's information to the Town of Carver, which will also be contacting their senator and state representatives.

Under the third issue to be addressed by the Board of Assessors, Mr. Mello asked the board to help schedule a meeting in an effort to better get to know the members of the Housing Authority so that they can all work closely on creating a mechanism that will allow them to adequately and thoroughly carry out the process of local elderly housing exemptions.

Which Selectman Parker explained, simply means that if you're putting an addition on your house to have an individual who is over the age of 60 live with you, there's an exemption that can be applied for through the Housing Partnership. The process of this exemption, clarification to applicants of qualifications, and the processes of approval of the application that requires certification by inspection, personal knowledge, identification of the individual over 60 residing in the residence and a letter, will all be handled by the Housing Authority and inspector to assure that there is no abuse of the program.

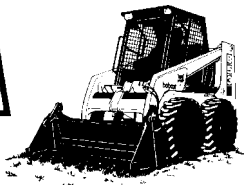

Mr. Mello informed the board that there are currently two, possibly three applications on record to date.

"We want to make sure this is done right and that no one abuses the system," Selectman Parker said.

At 7:45 pm, Chairman Cutler proceeded to address the remaining matters on the agenda, beginning with the signing and approval of the minutes from last week's meeting and necessary signatures to weekly reports.

Mr. Huntoon proceeded to give his Town Administrator's Report by discussing correspondence that he received this week from the MBTA regarding allegations of diversity problems that have been made against the MBTA for which they have obtained legal

Mr. Huntoon informed the board that he would be attending a meeting by the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development that will be held at the Middleboro Town Hall on August 28 from 8:30 to 10:30 to promote economic development.

Mr. Huntoon and other Town Hall staff members, including Ms. Lafreniere, met last week with John Adams of Tele Dynamics to discuss plans for upgrading the building's telephone system. Mr. Adams will be presenting them with a proposal for a new plan based on the needs that were expressed in that meeting and if the proposal is then approved by the necessary boards, the new system should be installed within 30-40 days.

Mr. Huntoon explained that funds are currently being sought to cover this possible upgrade in the Town Hall offices and that "It appears we have enough money in some of the town's budgets for this type of improvement," he concluded.

In other matters, Chairman Cutler reviewed a piece of correspondence that was received this week from Town Planner Randall Kunz regarding Chapter 40B

Projects. Chairman Cutler also brought to the attention of the board the matter of the recently-received application for a 40B housing project made by Mayflower Woods, a/k/a Acushnet Saw Mills, for a 58.15 acre extension of the Mayflower Woods Development. Mr. Cutler and Mr. Huntoon both agreed that the format of the proposed plan was not presented in an acceptable way.

"This is very difficult to fathom," Chairman Cutler said. "I would request from them that they provide a clearer plan of what they plan on taking out. We don't necessarily find this controversial, but need something more clear."

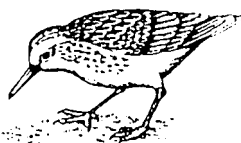

He also advised Mr. Huntoon that it wouldn't be a bad idea to have them come in and discuss their long-range plans, perhaps in a meeting to be scheduled for August 20, and to also invite Mr. Kunz to join in on the discussion as well. Mr. Huntoon agreed to set up the meeting.

Under the matter of old business Mr. Cutler asked Mr. Huntoon if there had been any word on the Mary's Pond Beach Project and what the status currently is. Mr. Huntoon reported that the plans were currently being reviewed by the State Senate and once a response was received the town could move forward with a definite plan and means for obtaining funds to carry it out.

In a request for an update on the town's current construction projects from Chairman Cutler, Mr. Huntoon stated that the land was cleared for the new Senior Center last week and he said "We expect to have the dirt being pushed around within the next week."

"You can see the progress on the Police Station," continued Mr. Huntoon, who added the lampposts are now up out front.

Selectman Parker asked Mr. Huntoon what the plans were for the sign at the Police Station and Mr. Huntoon explained that there will be letters on the building above the entrance of the station, but there will still be discussions to come on what exactly the sign should say. Chairman Cutler concluded that he would like to see the sign designs for both the Police Station and the Senior Center be consistent with each another.

The Board of Assessors office announced to the Selectmen that one of their members, Suzanne Szyndlar, was recently-inducted into the National Honor Society of Alpha Beta Kappa, at Johnson & Wales. "The Board of Assessors and the Treasurer's Office, indeed the people of the Town of Rochester, are fortunate to have an individual of Ms. Szyndlar's abilities and accomplishments in their service. The Board of Assessors appreciates the hard work and effort that she brings to the town as reflected in this academic honor and her recent completion of her degree."

Before moving to adjourn the open meeting at 8:00 pm, Chairman Cutler announced that the board's next regular meeting will be held on Monday, August 13. The board then went into Executive Session and would thereafter adjourn for the evening.

The Beetle Cat is a small wooden, gaff-rigged boat with a centerboard and one sail. It was originally designed and built by the Beetle Family of Clark's Point, New Bedford. After World War II, the Concordia Company purchased the Beetle rights and now the boats are built at Beetle, Inc. in South Dartmouth.

The championship is named after Leo J. Telesmanick, who throughout the years has been closely associated with the Beetle Cat. He was a master boat builder and foreman of production of these boats under the Beetle Family, and then went to Concordia as the head of the Beetle Cat Division. He was widely known for his expertise and knowledge of sailing.

HIRING A HOUSE INSPECTOR

Naturally you will carefully inspect any home you intend to purchase as best you can. However, if you are not a building expert and you have some serious questions about the house's structure or systems, it makes sense to hire an independent house inspector to do a professional job. If this is your case, here are a few pointers.

Home inspectors are supposed to work FOR the buyer. The real estate agent is not the inspection expert and he or she will be the first to tell you. Hire a house inspector who is totally impartial. That means someone who simply inspects the house and submits the findings but does nothing whatsoever to correct any fault he may find. In that way, the inspector will not be motivated to "discover" a lot of extra faults as a means toward finding repair work.

The inspector should be knowledgeable enough to give approximate costs of repairs as a guide so the client can make an informed decision on the house.

• Buzzards Bay Regatta

Now in its 29th year, the Buzzards Bay Regatta has become one of the most impressive sailing events in New England. Created in 1972 to band local fleets together for competition, the BBR now attracts boats as far away as the mid Atlantic and Canada. Credited to its success are experienced race management, scores of hard working volunteers, and exceptional southwesterly winds, typical of Buzzards Bay. The addition of good food, the idyllic setting of the New Bedford Yacht Club, and nightly entertainment, makes for a great combination of competition and fun.

The 2001 Buzzards Bay Regatta will be held on August 3, 4 and 5, and is being hosted this year by the New Bedford Yacht Club in South Dartmouth. Additional sponsoring clubs are the Beverly Yacht Club in Marion, the Mattapoisett Yacht Club and the Low Tide Yacht Club of New Bedford.

CANINE ALLERGIES

My dog spends lots of time chewing and licking at his feet. What does this mean?

Your dog is showing signs of allergies. People with allergies tend to cough and sneeze. Dogs tend to chew, lick and rub.

What can my dog be allergic to and what should I do?

Your dog can be allergic to food, fleas, articles that he contacts such as wool rugs and all of the pollens, molds and dusts that affect people. Try to keep a diary of your dogs itchiness to determine if it occurs all year round or if it is seasonal. Food allergies tend to be constant throughout the year while allergies to pollens tend to be seasonal. Talk to your veterinarian about diet changes, medications and allergy testing to determine what may be most helpful for your pet.

Project GROW Applications

Applicants for enrollment in Project GROW, the local public school early childhood program, are currently being sought. Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester children who were born between January 1, 1997 and September 1, 1998 are eligible to apply. The purpose of Project GROW is to provide preschool experience to children whose families have been unable to enroll them in another program and who desire a preschool experience for their child as well as to provide children with special needs the opportunity to receive service in the least restrictive environment.

Project GROW offers all children an exciting, developmentally-based preschool experience. As a family-centered program, parents play an active, vital role in the child's educational experience through a wide variety of parent involvement opportunities. Additionally, home visits respond to parents' needs and concerns about their child's development.

This year the Center School class, serving children from Mattapoisett, will be housed at the Sippican School in Marion due to the Center School construction project. Marion and Rochester children will attend class in their local elementary school. Each class is staffed by a certified early childhood teacher and a classroom assistant. The program operates four hours a day, Tuesday through Friday, and follows the school calendar. Parents are responsible for providing transportation to and from school each day. The program is tuition-free.

Preference will be given to children with no

Fairhaven Teddy Bear Parade

Teddy bear lovers young and old need to remember Wednesday, August 8 at 10:00 am. That's the day the bears will be parading again at The Millicent Library. Everyone is welcome to attend the Seventeenth Annual Teddy Bear Parade with their favorite stuffed bears.

Bears of all ages, shapes and sizes will be escorted along the tree-shaded brick sidewalks of the Unitarian Memorial Church, with a short side trip parade by the seniors at Our Lady's Haven. Bear owners may bring along wagons or strollers for teddy bears who might have difficulty walking. After the parade, bears and friends can spread blankets on the lawn to share refreshments. Last year hundreds of bears and about 250 humans turned out for the fun event.

The Annual Teddy Bear Parade and Picnic is organized by Lisa Howard, Youth Services Librarian, and serves as the finale to the Millicent Library's Wednesday morning children's programs. For more information about the event, please call The Millicent Library at 508-992-5342. The library is located at 45 Centre Street in Fairhaven.

VA Prescription Co-Payment

A proposed Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) regulation that will increase the co-payment some veterans make for outpatient prescriptions was published recently in the Federal Register. For the past decade, veterans have paid $2 for each 30-day supply of medication furnished on an outpatient basis for treatment of a nonservice-connected condition. This will increase to $7, with a maximum annual out-of-pocket payment of $840 for veterans in certain enrollment categories.

In 1990, VA spent $715 million for pharmaceuticals. While co-payments remained the same during the next ten years, the cost for medicines rose to $2.1 billion in 2000. Under the new regulation, co-payments could increase with inflation, along with caps, based on the Prescription Drug portion of the Consumer Price Index.

Certain veterans currently do not have to make medication co-payments and the proposed regulation would not change that. The following veterans are exempt from the regulations proposed: veterans who have a service-connected disability rating of 50 percent or more; veterans who are receiving medication for a service-connected disability; veterans with incomes below the maximum amount of VA pensions; and a limited number of other veterans exempt by law.

VA believes that the proposed $7 medication co-payment would be lower than or equal to most medication co-payments charged by the private health care industry. The purpose of the annual cap is to help eliminate financial hardships for veterans who in unusual circumstances need a significant number of prescriptions. The cap is based on a veteran who averages more than 10 prescriptions a month. The co-payment cap would not apply to veterans in priority category 7. Congress has determined that these veterans have sufficient resources to pay for VA inpatient and outpatient care.

For further information, local veterans are urged to contact the Veterans Office in Mattapoisett at 508-758-4114.

Mattapoisett PTA Fun Fair

The goal of the Mattapoisett Parents-Teachers Association (PTA) Fun Fair, for families to come together and have fun, was certainly achieved this year! Despite the rain, it was attended by many and enjoyed by all. They would like to take this opportunity to express their appreciation and gratitude to all of the area merchants who donated such generous items for the raffle. There were so many, it is not possible to list them all. Please know that the PTA remembers and thanks you! They also

Lastly, they thank all the committee chairs and each of the incredible volunteers. Without their help and support, the fair would never have taken place.

Annual Blues Festival at the Lillian Gregerman Band Shell in beautiful Onset Village on Saturday, August 4. Festivities will begin at 9:00 am, with music beginning at 12:30 pm and running through 6:00 pm. Held on the bluffs overlooking Onset Harbor, this festival draws thousands of blues lovers from all over New England. Sponsored by Plymouth Savings Bank and, in part, by the Wareham Cultural Council, this event is one of Onset's biggest! This year's lineup of performers promises for a great day of fun, including:

- Weepin' Willie and the All-Star Blues Band headlines this year's festival. Born in 1926 as William Lorenzo Robinson, this 74-year-old recording artist is better known to his fans as "Weepin' Willie." Willie said he never had the slightest thought of becoming a singer until the day B. B. King invited him to come up on stage and sing with the band after they heard him sing a few lines. The rest, as they say, is history. Recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award in 2000, and First Runner-Up for the Best Local R&B Soul Act in the Boston Phoenix 2000, Weepin' Willie has charmed audiences throughout the years with his smooth blues style and engaging stage presence. Come and see "Boston's Elder Statesman of the Blues" yourself!

- The McCarthy Brothers hail from the New Bedford area and although they have been together as a group for about a year, individually they have been playing since the 1960s. A mixture of original, traditional and modern blues, and classic R&B complete their

MOVIE REVIEW

Gorilla Warfare

By Rob Gonsalves
<http://robsreviews.cjb.net>

Planet of the Apes. Starring Mark Wahlberg, Tim Roth, and Helena Bonham Carter. Directed by Tim Burton. Running time: 119 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13. At Cinema 12 at the North Dartmouth Mall and Flagship Theaters in New Bedford.

"Some of it is very much me. Some of it isn't." That's Bruce Wayne in Tim Burton's first Batman movie, referring to his armor collection. Burton could point to his own collection, his filmography, and say the same thing. Edward Scissorhands, for instance, was very much Burton. Parts of his bigger films — Batman, Mars Attacks — are very much Burton, and some aren't. Planet of the Apes would seem at first glance to be very much not Burton — a suit of armor that doesn't fit him. But he wears it well anyway, and it's fascinating to see him work on material that doesn't click perfectly with his gothic/carnival obsessions.

I took the movie as a fine, chest-pounding jungle adventure — the sort of square sci-fi epic Burton tries and, amusingly, fails to do straight. The soul of this Planet of the Apes is illogic — bursts of simian passion, rage, fear, even lust: I will not soon forget the moment when a seductive female ape gazes through a veil at her husband, then leaps onto the bed with a thrashing mating call. Aided by Rick Baker's astonishing make-up, Burton makes the apes more distinct and, well, human than the humans ever are, and I'm sure this is by design. As in the 1968 original and its four sequels, we're meant to look upon the apes and see ourselves. The actual humans in chains onscreen have little to do with us.

The new movie, which begins 28 years from now, follows pilot Leo Davidson (Mark Wahlberg) as he pursues an off-course space pod containing his favorite test-pilot monkey. Leo's pod crashes on a futuristic planet where apes reign (in a heavily militaristic society, as in the earlier films) and humans are slaves. The saturnine General Thade (Tim Roth, swinging his shoulders and glowering) runs the army, meaning he runs the show and would like to run humans into a mass grave; his ideological opposite is Ari (Helena Bonham Carter), basically Kim Hunter's Zira version 2.0, who detests the subjugation of humans. She detests it even more when Leo is captured; she develops eyelash-flutter whenever he's around.

This Planet of the Apes is all about noise and chaos — the unstable mix of intellect and brutal will that's intended to mirror our own evolution. The script, by William Broyles Jr., Lawrence Konner, and Mark Rosenthal, is short on intellect and long on brutal will; whatever ideas you take away from the theater are the ones you brought with you. Nobody in the movie stands around debating the ethics of, say, experimenting on human slaves or breeding them genetically. Burton understands that the five earlier Apes movies already did the furrowed-brow thing long past the point of relevance (the series really should've stopped at the third one).

This director isn't a thinker; he brings more of a painterly mindset to the franchise, letting artists like Rick Baker, set designer Rick Heinrichs, costumer Colleen Atwood, and cinematographer Phillipe Rousselot work their primal, primate magic (Danny Elfman's flamboyant Wagnerian outbursts complete the movie's epic flavor). So what if Burton loses interest in the human characters? I for one don't blame him; the movie isn't called Planet of the Humans, and they're not who we came to see. Mark Wahlberg, that sincere, amiable, total blank of an actor, is consistently knocked off the screen by great actors in ape latex. Tim Roth, though mesmerizing in his relentless combative spewing, is a little too conscious of playing a mean motorscooter; I was more taken with Carter's avid, idealistic Ari, or Paul Giamatti's cringing sleazebag slave trader Limbo — Giamatti could act with a bucket over his head and still rock the house — or even Charlton Heston in a belabored yet still gotta-see-it-for-yourself in-joke cameo as Thade's dying great-ape father, who gives humanity props for inventing guns (and the NRA, one assumes).

Planet of the Apes is far from Tim Burton's best film, but I don't think it's a sell-out or an anomaly in his portfolio, as some have charged. Here you have a lavishly designed atmosphere, in which the "freaks" — the Other, the characters we don't see when we look around us every day — are the clear focus, while humans take a back seat. This pretty well describes all of Burton's films (think of how lifeless Mars Attacks was before the Martians landed), and here, at last, Burton puts his bias up front. He'd much rather play with sets and latex than with bland, interchangeable people (a contemptuous ape hilariously confirms this when he snorts that humans all look alike) — he's comfortable on this planet where apes enjoy sex, drugs, and rock and roll (or their version of it, anyway) while humans rot in cages. It's as if the misfits of our world — the apes in zoos, the monkeys experimented on and shot up into space — finally triumphed. The more you think about it, the more Planet of the Apes seems very much Tim Burton.

Home Fires Burning

By Kenneth J. Souza
movies@wanderer.com

Things in the regional tri-town area are beginning to heat up. And usually where there's heat, there's fire — so the natural instinct may be to call out the local Fire Departments to douse the flames. Only in this particular case, ironically, it seems friction between local fire officials in Mattapoisett and Marion is causing the blaze in a small-scale turf war over which department should respond and exert command over any potential fire scene at Old Rochester Regional Junior and Senior High Schools while the dual facilities are being renovated.

In a terse memo to Marion Fire Chief C. Robert Davis dated July 17, Mattapoisett Fire Chief Ronald E. Scott dictated: "I am instituting the following protocol during the construction phase of the renovation work at Old Rochester Regional High School and Junior High School: the Mattapoisett Fire Department will handle all fire alarm calls. Your department will be called out on a second alarm." Chief Scott went on to mandate that in the event of an actual emergency, all firefighting activities would be under the command of himself or his designee.

This sudden change in standard operating procedure — in which both Marion and Mattapoisett would usually automatically respond to the first alarm due to their proximity to the high schools — didn't sit well with Chief Davis, who dashed off a memo to the Marion Board of Selectmen expressing concern that the "policy does not protect the best interest of the schools."

Selectmen Chairman Jonathan "Jody" Dickerson strongly backed his Fire Chief, saying that as long as one Marion student was attending ORR, the Marion Fire Department would continue to respond to the first alarm.

"We just put a whole new (fire alarm) line to the high school, that's why I felt there was no need for a change," Chief Davis said.

I'm reminded of countless, clichéd movie plots in which a small-town police department (usually a bungling sheriff and his Barney Fife deputies) are pushed aside as the big, bad federal authorities come crashing into town, circumventing local authority as a means to swift justice. Most of those situations usually pit the local, more immediate jurisdiction (city/town) against the larger, all-encompassing law enforcement of a federal agency. And typically those situations also wreak the precise kind of chaos and confusion they are attempting to avoid.

From Chief Scott's perspective, he was simply attempting to establish a clear protocol in the event of a full-scale emergency. "With the construction, it's getting a little bit tight up there," he said. "I don't want to keep Marion out ... I just wanted them to come on the second alarm. We're just trying to resolve a safety issue up there — it doesn't make sense to jam everybody (in) ... I think (this is a) safer way of doing things."

Chief Scott claims he met with both Chief Davis and Marion's Deputy Fire Chief Rick Guerzoni prior to issuing the incendiary memo and he left that meeting with the impression that both sides were comfortable with the proposed arrangement. "It was my understanding it was resolved (that) night," Chief Scott said. "Now I'm reading that things have changed along the way."

But Chief Davis denies that any such meeting took place prior to receiving the offending memo — in fact, he said the meeting Chief Scott was referring to happened after the fact. Had they discussed the proposed policy beforehand, Chief Davis would have countered that adequate access to the schools during construction is the responsibility of the contractor under state code, and ongoing renovations point up the need for more stringent safety support, not less.

"(Emergency vehicle access) is a burden on the contractor — he should make sure there are areas where we can get through," Chief Davis said. "My feeling is you're going to have more of a chance for something to happen while construction is going on."

Chief Davis also bristles at Chief Scott's assertion that he take full command on all future calls. "The last time we did have a fire (at ORR), we were the first ones there," Chief Davis said. "We're there either pretty much (at) the same time or before ... so we have a pretty good response time. If (Mattapoisett) gets there first, they can assume command — that's fine. But if we get there first, we're not just going to wait for Mattapoisett to set up command. I (feel) if we get there first, we (should) have a joint command — it works better that way."

There's also the argument that if both towns have a vested interest in the tri-town regional high schools — shouldn't Rochester also have a stake in this tug-of-war?

Given their nearest station's distance from the Route 6 campus, it wouldn't be feasible for them to quickly respond to an initial alarm call ... but Rochester Fire Chief Scott Ashworth confirmed they do monitor all Mattapoisett and Marion calls and would be ready to respond to a second alarm or as mutual aid support for either town.

To that end, Chief Davis would like all three Fire Chiefs to have a sit-down and toss around this veritable "hot potato" to establish a policy that meets everyone's satisfaction.

"To me, it's just common sense," Chief Davis said. "All three towns have got quite an investment there ... and it's our job to protect it."

Frankly, it's a little dismaying that the two factions couldn't come to a more amicable compromise. Safety issues and command protocols aside, residents of all three towns should be more concerned about the potential for a large-scale emergency at the two high schools than which Fire Department is on-scene first and who gets to be boss. Although Chief Scott's intention was only to maintain a safe and orderly command scene, free of apparatus congestion and fire personnel confusion, he's managed to make his point at the cost of some bruised egos along the way, and has fanned the flames of dissension between two codependent neighboring towns which really need to foster a better working relationship on a regional level.

From a common-sense, non-firefighter layman's perspective, I would think if an actual emergency situation were to occur at ORR — during construction or not — it certainly couldn't hurt to have two Fire Departments at the ready ... and if one fire company has to park just outside the high school entrance standing by with their equipment, so be it. The time it would take to tone out a second alarm and for Marion to arrive could be a matter of life or death for a student from Mattapoisett, Marion, or Rochester. And when it comes to saving a life, it really doesn't matter what town's name is on the uniform.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A misunderstanding tests the temperament of the sometimes headstrong Aries. But instead of blowing your top, take time for a pleasant diversion while things cool down.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A workplace problem could make the divine Bovine see red. But talk it out before you consider walking out. Some surprising facts emerge that change your earlier focus.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) It's not often when someone tries to "sting" the sharp-witted Scorpion. But it can happen. Continue to be skeptical about anything that seems too good to be true.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your strong sense of self-esteem helps you serve as a role model for someone who needs personal reassurances. Your efforts pay off in an unexpected way.

The walking tour route traces the quiet winding paths past the final resting places of some of the town's most famous residents, including the Delano family tomb designed by Richard Morris Hunt, the H.H. Rogers mausoleum designed by Charles Brigham, and the grave sites of Captain William H. Whitfield, artist William Bradford, William F. Nye, John I. Bryant, Elizabeth I. Hastings, and others. Last year's Rochester Grange #257 Photo Contest was such a success that the Grange is going to hold a photo contest again this year in conjunction with the fair and with the help of the Plumb Memorial Library. Prizes will be awarded in both children and adult classes. The rules are simple and it is the organization's hope that many will dust off those cameras and enter.

Entry deadline is Thursday, August 9, 2001 (please note: there was an error in the premium book which included last year's rules). All entries may be dropped off at the library during business hours. They will be taking both black and white and color photos. The entries should be mounted and/or matted (please no frames) and should be no smaller than 5" x 7" or larger than 8" x 10". Please include name, address and telephone number on back. In adult classes, the name of the subject should be provided, if possible.

The classes include: Kids Ages 13 and Under – Things in Nature (plants, animals, scenes, etc.); Adults (14 and over) – Rochester's Many Faces. These can be por-
